

WELCOME TO WITNESSED: CREATIVE EXPRESSIONS OF NURSING ART SHOW

Tuesday 11 April 2023

Please take a walk around and let us know your thoughts!

Visit nursing.ucalgary.ca/art-working-group

Note: There may be some work exhibited that does not appear on this list as well as some in locations other than what is listed.

THIRD FLOOR COMMONS [OUTSIDE PF 3270]

WHAT ARE NURSES' ROLES IN MODERN HEALTHCARE?

Jennifer Jackson / Clothing

Description with display

LAYER CAKE MOUNTAIN, KELOWNA

Carol Flegg / Acrylic in canvas

As a nurse I have witnessed great joy and sorrow in my work with families. To deal with my emotions about what I have witnessed I turn to art to help heal me.

STUDENT ART

Various Artists / Various Media

Some of these pieces have been by UCalgary Nursing Students, completed in conjunction with Opening Minds through Art, a program through the Alzheimer Society of Calgary, that places people with dementia at the centre of the art process.

REFLECTING ON REFLECTION

Julie Burns / Photograph

Early morning, Bowness Park.

POW WOW

Lorraine Venturato / Photography

This series of photographic images conveys the power, beauty and pride in culture evident through dance, drumming and dress of the Pow Wow. These images reflect a celebration of First Nation culture from the perspective of an outsider.

EMBRACING TO EMPOWER

Brooklyn Rhead / 8" x 10" Digital painting print

This digital painting depicts a UCalgary Nursing student surrounded by numerous supplies used to manage type 1 diabetes. It demonstrates that there are more to individuals beneath the surface than what meets the eye. Although demanding and challenging, type 1 diabetes is accompanied by many rewards, including a community of support, increased advocacy, and a voice for change. This demonstrates how nurses can use personal perspectives and experiences to empower themselves while also serving as a reminder to provide person-centered care.

THE BEAUTY IN RESILIENCE

Lorraine Venturato / Photography

This series of photographic images conveys the power, beauty and pride in culture evident through dance, drumming and dress of the Pow Wow. These images reflect a celebration of First Nation culture from the perspective of an outsider.

LIVING IN A (ZEN)TANGLED WORLD

Emma Lockyer / Ink on paper

Using the zentangle method and my own creativity to explore mindfulness and make sense of the complicated world that we live in.

PF 3270

SEARCHING FOR HOME, 2023

Randip Dhaliwal / 16" x 11" painting

My father has many identities. He is a son, a brother, a parent and an immigrant. However, he is also a scientist and lover of plant physiology. He immigrated to Canada in the early 1990s to pursue his Master of Science degree, which was predominantly framed by racism and exclusion. He is the descendant of farmers and freedom fighters in India. Situated in a new country on the other side of the world, he found home and familiarity in science.

IT COMES IN WAVES

Juliana Malkinson / 16" x 16" painting

Inspired by Sally West and my summer vacations to San Diego, I created this painting to capture the feeling of the cool, ocean mist on your face and hot sand beneath your toes.

STILL LIFE: AGING IN PLACE

Lorraine Venturato / with photography by Alex Ramadan

This project is part of a series of visual projects exploring the experiences of older adults. The images consider the role of “place” and “home” in experiences of aging and explores who we are and how we live as we age, the objects that make a place home and how space and artifacts become imbued with memories that help shape our identity and tell the story of our life.

DIGITAL ART

LA BOTA DEL ABUELO ("GRANDPA'S BOOT")

Margarita Gil / Digital image [3 MP, 1818 x 1818, 2.1 MB]

This drawing represents a childhood memory I hold of my grandpa's boot which had become a planter in his garden. I would spend hours imagining that I was a fairy living inside of it. La Bota del Abuelo is an invitation to get lost in imagination, as it is the only way to enter through its knobless door.

ALBERTA

Lorraine Venturato / Photography

This series of photographic images taken around Alberta highlight the diversity and beauty of our province. This series also serves to highlight the role of outdoor and natural spaces in mental health and well-being.

Thanks to all our exhibitors and to the Art Working Group.
And thank you for attending!