Project Title: Responding to Women Who Experience Intimate Partner Violence in Rural Municipalities Across the Prairies

In partnership with the RESOLVE Alberta, researchers at the University of Calgary and University of Lethbridge are conducting a study on rural women's experience as victims of violence in their intimate partner relationships and their experiences of help-seeking (including what services they accessed and/or barriers they encountered).

We would like female victims/survivors to participate in an interview (in-person or by phone). To be eligible to participate, an individual must:

- Be 18 years of age or older,
- Have experienced intimate partner violence (within the last 10 years),
- Have been living in a rural area during your experiences of violence, and
- No longer be living with your abusive/violent partner

The interviews will take 60 to 90 minutes to complete and will be in-person (if safe to do so due to COVID-19 concerns) or by teleconference or videoconference at a convenient time.

If you are interested in participating or you would like more information, please contact
